

WALK A WHILE NEWS – 10 November 2014

Do you know People?

Do you know people, who know people, who know other people?

You can utilise your network of friends and acquaintances to spread the word and Help Raise the Cross in Central Australia.

We have ambassadors in several places already, but we need more. Why not share the news with your friends and ask them to spread the word through their networks?

It's going to be really exciting when we see this cross going up. It not only has tremendous spiritual significance, but also incredible practical purpose.

A cross of this magnitude and grandeur on a mountain of prayer in the heart of the desert is going to attract thousands of tourists to the location. That will bring about great opportunities for tourism and for some of Australia's leading indigenous artists to sell their work directly to the public. It will also create many jobs in remote indigenous communities in order to support the opportunities that will be made available by this many travellers.

Sometimes people ask why the cross is so big. It's size has been determined by the project engineers, to ensure the cross is built in perspective to the mountain (which is about 180 metres high) and in line with the vision of the indigenous people. If it was any smaller, it would look out of place.

You can be part of bringing this vision to pass by donating funds, by praying, and by inviting your friends to register as supporters at www.walkawhile.org.au and to Like our Facebook page.

The more people we can make aware of this mission, the sooner this Cross can go up and we can all participate in a grand celebration.
